Twenty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year A, September 10th 2017. Bulletin No: 1180.

When you go to the Middle East or to Africa you see what the absence of rain means. Without rain even the best ground turns into a desert. Sometimes when the rain eventually comes, the ground is so hard that it can't penetrate, and so it runs away causing flash-flooding

So it is with the human heart when it becomes hard. Hard-heartedness gives one a measure of invulnerability in so far as one can't feel and therefore can't be hurt. Nevertheless, hard-heartedness is a sad and pitiable state. To adopt a hard-hearted attitude is to maim oneself.

A hard heart can't feel, can't respond, can't love. A hard heart can't experience sorrow, but neither can it experience joy. A hard heart is a closed heart, so it can't receive. A hard heart is a barren heart. A hard heart is the most serious handicap of all. From a spiritual point of view it is one of the worst things that can happen to anyone. It's bad to harden one's heart even against one person. We may have very good reasons for doing so, but we do ourselves serious damage spiritually.

A soft heart, on the other hand, is a blessing. True, it makes one vulnerable; the soft-hearted are easily hurt. But a soft heart can also be touched, moved, and warmed. It can receive. It can be saddened but it can also be deliriously happy. It can respond. It can burst into life like a garden in springtime.

Jesus came not just to purify our hearts, but to soften them, to open them, to sow the seed of God's word in them; to turn them from wastelands into fertile ground. When we heed the voice of God everything changes. Softened by the rain of God's grace, and warmed by the sun of his love, the human heart can be turned from a desert into a garden.

Words from the Tabernacle

When you come to visit me, your feelings are of no importance. What matters in My sight is your humility and your willingness to endure distractions, fatigue, and even sleepiness while adoring Me from the heart of your heart. Know that even when you feel that your adoration has been a waste of time, in My plan it is something fruitful and it is very pleasing to Me. I do not see things as you see them nor do I measure their value as you measure it.

New Pilgrim Path Website of the Week.

Pathways to God, an English Jesuit website, is a valuable resource for enriching one's prayer life. Sections include a "Thought for the Day" and resources on the Examen. Also of interest is the section "Where I Found God Today", which highlights brief, anonymous stories of where people have encountered God. Access this, and other online spiritual resources, at www.NewPilgrimPath.ie.

Prayer for Grandparents

Lord Jesus, you were born of the Virgin Mary, the daughter of Saints Joachim and Anne. Look with love on grandparents the world over. Protect them! They are a source of enrichment for families, for the Church and for all of society. Support them! As they grow older, may they continue to be for their families strong pillars of Gospel faith, guardian of noble domestic ideals, living treasuries of sound religious traditions. Make them teachers of wisdom and courage, that they may pass on to future generations the fruits of their mature human and spiritual experience. Lord Jesus, help families and society to value the presence and roles of grandparents. May they never be ignored or excluded, but always encounter respect and love. Help them to live serenely and feel welcomed in all the years of life which you give them. Mary, mother of all the living, keep grandparents constantly in your care, accompany them on their earthly pilgrimage, and by your prayers, grant that all families may one day be reunited in our heavenly homeland, where you await all humanity for the great embrace of life without end. Amen.

Singing in a choir
is cheaper than therapy,
healthier than drinking,
and more fun than working out!

Would you consider joining the choir? The choir are always looking for new members, both male and female. Speak to one of the choir members after 11.30 Mass any Sunday or contact the Parish Office.
