Thirty First Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year A, November 5th 2017. Bulletin No: 1188.

All Words but no Deeds

At the root of innumerable wrongs in our world is the discrepancy between word and deed. It is the weakness of churches, parties, and individuals. It gives people and institutions split personalities. This was the chief fault Christ found with the Pharisees: 'They do not practise what they preach.'

If we practise what we preach, if we live by our beliefs, we ourselves will be the first to benefit. But we will also set a good example for others. People whose religion begins and ends with worship and ritual practices are like soldiers forever manoeuvring, but never getting into action, or footballers forever training but never playing a competitive game.

Like beautiful flowers full of colour but without scent, so are the well chosen words of the person who does not act accordingly.

What great prophets have said is forgotten, but what heroes and saints have done is still remembered. There can be no happiness for us, as long as the things we believe in are different from the things we do.

'Do not say things. What you are stands over you all the while and thunders so loudly that I cannot hear what you say to the contrary.' (Ralph Waldo Emerson)
