'Becoming Stillness': Talk by Richard Rohr. God refuses to be known by the intellect. God only allows himself to be loved by the heart."

Renowned Franciscan author and speaker, Richard Rohr, quotes St John of the Cross in a powerful address on 'Becoming Stillness' at Norwich Cathedral. In it, he expresses the conviction that our day-to-day life and our religious beliefs do not allow us to understand, embrace or even recognize the great mystery of God, love, and compassion because we are locked in the grids of our own conditioned minds. He outlines his vision of a non-dual, contemplative Christianity, which disappeared from the west 400 years ago. Thank you to all who have returned their Easter Dues.

THANK YOU

On Holy Thursday, at the request of the Holy Father, there was a collection for the Holy Land, ('Pro Terra Sancta'), for which we thank you.

We also held a collection on Divine Mercy Sunday for Persecuted Christians (ACN) we thank you for your generosity as always.

John was faster than Me!

And there it is, the empty tomb. The women were right all along, and I was wrong again. The Beloved reached there first. Younger than me. Freer than me. More loved than me. And why not? He didn't run away; he didn't draw a sword, deny, disappear. He stood his ground. Now he stands in front of an empty tomb, his eyes fixed on the horizon towards Galilee. I peer into the darkness where the cold, hard stone, the rolled-up cloths lay. If only it were as simple to roll away my guilt and toss it into a deserted tomb. The guilt overwhelms me. I cry.

John puts his hands on my shoulders awaiting my response. 'The good we do, we write in the sand. The mistakes we make we write in stone.' I know not from where these words stumble. John gently laughs and calls me by the old familiar nickname Cephas saying 'The mistakes we make, He washes away on sand. The good you will do, you will build on rock.' I will never understand this wide-eyed boy, His far-seeing gaze, His visions. He speaks a language I hardly understand.

Is there... something... almost... the lull of a whisper on a salty breeze, for I will make you fishers of men and the ripple of hope returns.

Peter

FEASTDAYS this week

Monday 3rd May: St Athanasius, bishop.

Tuesday 4th May: Ss Philip & James, apostles.

Thursday 5th May: Bl Edmund Rice (1762-1844)

Edmund Rice came from Callan, Co Kilkenny.

After his young wife's early death he sold his possessions and dedicated his life to the education of the poor. To advance the work, he gathered other like-minded men who took religious vows together to work for the Catholic education of boys. He is a model of patient and cheerful acceptance of the sufferings God sends, a true lay apostle and a deeply committed religious. He was the founder of two religious institutes of religious brothers: the Congregation of Christian Brothers and the Presentation Brothers.

A time to be thankful.

*During this Easter Season take a moment to think of something you are thankful for.
You will find our white Easter tree beside St. Anthony's Shrine.
Write your thought on one of the cards provided and hang it on the tree with a yellow ribbon.
Giving Thanks!*
