

New Pilgrim Path

Gerard Manley Hopkins is regarded as one of the Victorian era's greatest poets. While in Oxford he read John Henry Newman's Apologia pro via sua and two years later he was received into the Catholic Church by Newman himself. He subsequently decided to become a priest and in 1867 entered a Jesuit novitiate. Watch a terrific 1986 BBC documentary on the life and poetry of Gerard Manley Hopkins at www.newpilgrimpath.ie.

TASK FORCE

Building Hope

Archdiocese of Dublin

Our Parish Building Hope meeting was held on Saturday last. It was very well attended as you will see from a few of the photos which were taken on the day.

Many of you have also responded in writing via the box in the church. The level of participation is very encouraging for our future.

All responses will be collated over the coming weeks for submission to the Archdiocese.

Thank you to everyone who participated in this process.

The Ascension of the Lord, Year C, 29th May, 2022. Bulletin No: 1414.

The Ascension of the Lord

On the feast of the Ascension we celebrate the glorification of Jesus. The humble Jesus, who suffered and died, now reigns in glory at the right hand of the Father. But what a strange path led him to that glory. At first the apostles found it incredible that anyone, much less a Messiah, could travel to glory by such a path.

It was their hope and dream that Jesus was the promised Messiah. But their idea of the Messiah was that of an all-conquering hero, who would restore Israel to its former greatness. When Jesus was crucified, the dream was reduced to rubble. A humiliated, crucified Messiah was unthinkable.

From a worldly point of view the hour of Jesus death was an hour of failure. Worse, it was an hour of shame and humiliation. But by raising him from the dead, God turned it into an hour of triumph for Jesus and an hour of grace for us. His death, far from being the end of the dream, was precisely the way in which it was realised.

This feast is as much about us as about Jesus. His ascension shows us the goal of our earthly journey. It is a goal and a destiny that defies our imagination. It gives an eternal dimension to our lives. We live in the hope that the words of Jesus will come true for us: 'Where I am, you too shall be' Meanwhile we have a task to do: to preach the Good News and to be witnesses in the world.
