Thirty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year C, 13th November, 2022. Bulletin No: 1437.

'Not a hair on your head will be destroyed'

In today's Gospel Jesus prophesies things we find fulfilled in the Book of Acts, when during the AD50's and 60's, the Apostles were seized, persecuted, handed over to synagogues and prisons, led before kings and governors, and some put to death. All these things took place before the destruction of Jerusalem in AD70. At the same time, these persecutions have been characteristic of the Church throughout history and will recur in a particularly intense way just before the Second Coming.

You will be hated by all because of my name.

The hatred of those around us is particularly hard for Christians to bear because we desire their love and conversion intensely. We bear others no ill will, but because we will not comply with lifestyles and beliefs we know to be false, harmful and contrary to God's will, we provoke resentment of others.

But not a hair on your head will be destroyed.

By your perseverance you will secure your lives.

Since Jesus acknowledges that some will be put to death, his statement "not a hair on your head will be destroyed" cannot be taken in a simple sense, rather that no ultimate damage will be sustained by the Christian because his entire body will be restored at the resurrection.

Perseverance is a form of the virtue of fortitude, an ability to endure under the stress of pain and hardship. May God grant us the perseverance to endure and remain faithful to the end.
