

New Pilgrim Path

The Gospel for the 3rd Sunday in Lent describes the encounter of Jesus with the Samaritan woman at the well. Arts and Faith is a Jesuit initiative that examines Scripture through the lens of sacred visual arts. This week, we examine this marvellous Gospel episode as depicted in a Byzantine icon, which reveals many layers of meaning in the story. Visit www.newpilgrimpath.ie.

Third Sunday of Lent, Year A, 12th March, 2023. Bulletin No: 1454.

One theme runs through all three of today's readings. It is a very important and comforting theme. You could say that it is the heart of the Good News. That theme is: we are loved in our sins.

In the First Reading in spite of the ingratitude and grumblings of the people, God doesn't write them off, but shows his love for them by providing water for them in the desert. The message is explicitly stated in the Second Reading when Paul says, 'What proves that God loves us is that Christ died for us while we were still sinners.' And we see the message in action in the Gospel.

Jesus' approach to this outcast woman was ever so gentle. He didn't force himself into her life. In fact he began from a position of weakness. He began with a request for a drink of water. In this way he disposed her to receive the gift he wanted to give her. His heart was already open to her. Now she opened her heart to him. A wonderful dialogue ensued, and a marvellous exchange took place. No one had ever paid such close and loving attention to her before and before she knew it she had shared with him the whole story of her sad and confused life.

Christ meets us where we are. He says to us what he said to that lost woman: 'If you only knew the gift God wants to give you.' It doesn't do much good to be loved for being perfect. We need to be accepted and loved precisely as sinners.
