The Church-24 survey – an invitation to participate

You are being asked for 15 to 20 minutes of your time to complete a survey that will enable you to give your perspective, share what you believe about some significant issues, and relate your experiences of church life since the pandemic.

The Church-24 survey has three main objectives:

1. To listen to churchgoers on a range of long-standing issues and questions, particularly as they are being brought to light in the synodal process.
2. To explore some new issues that face us now, or soon will, but which were not talked about so much a decade ago, such as climate change, artificial intelligence, assisted dying or safeguarding procedures.
3. The Covid pandemic is over... or is it? What's happened to you and your faith community since lockdowns ended?

To take part, follow this link <https://www.yorks.j.ac.uk/the-church-24-survey>

The Wounds of Love

Those who care about others pick up a lot of wounds as they go through life. Perhaps there are no great wounds but only a multiplicity of little ones - a host of scratches, wrinkles and welts. Yet these are only the visible wounds.

What about the myriad of invisible wounds: the furrow left on the mind and the soul by hardship, worry and anxiety? And those piercing ones which affect that most sensitive part of us - the heart - things like disappointments, ingratitude, betrayal. Emotional hurt hits us in the gut, and can be harder to deal with than physical hurt.

But these wounds are not things to be ashamed of. They are the proof of our love. Will anyone see these wounds and come to believe in our love because of them? Even if no one else sees them, God sees them, and he is proud of us, for he sees that we resemble his Son. We must not look at a person's achievements only, but at his/her wounds and scars.

Jesus didn't hide his wounds for they were the proof of his love. They were the mortal wounds the Good Shepherd suffered in defending his flock from the wolf. He invited the apostles to touch those wounds. It was by touching and being touched that they are healed of their unbelief. His wounds give us hope in our wounds.

Jesus didn't become embittered because of his wounds. Neither should we. Having brought peace and healing to the apostles, Jesus commissioned them to go and bring the good news to others. Jesus wants us to be witnesses to his resurrection. A sad, embittered person is a poor witness.

Pure in Heart

Educate, Inspire, Empower

Thank you for the wonderful response to the Pure in Heart Cake Sale held last Sunday. The youth group were delighted with the proceeds of €1227.24 which they will use to fund their work with young people in schools throughout Ireland. See more about them and their work at www.pureinheart.ie

A time to be thankful.

During this Easter Season take a moment to think of something you are thankful for. You will find our white Easter tree beside St. Anthony's Shrine. Write your thought on one of the cards provided and hang it on the tree with a yellow ribbon.

Giving Thanks!

For the duration of Eastertide
the Regina Caeli is recited instead of the Angelus.
Copies are available in the Church for you to take home.
