New Pilgrim Path

“Do not try and cultivate a practice; simply be present with an open and loving heart”. The great American mystic and Trappist monk, Thomas Merton, taught the novices at the Abbey of Gethsemani in Kentucky. Beginning in April 1962, his lectures to the novices were recorded, allowing us to hear Merton speaking in his own voice. To listen to some of his talks on prayer, visit: www.newpilgrimpath.ie.

The Faithful Servant

Jesus was aware of the uncertainty of life. His parable stresses the fact that death can come at any moment. It isn’t that God tries to catch us unawares like a thief breaking into a house. That would be unthinkable. Death, not God, is the thief that robs us of life.

Once upon a time there was a court jester who for many years had helped to amuse the king and the royal court. But then he committed an indiscretion and was sentenced to death. Before the sentence was carried out the king summoned him and said to him. ‘In view of the many happy moments you gave me over the years, I will allow you to choose the method by which you are to die.’

The jester thought for a moment and then replied, ‘Your Majesty, if it’s all right by you, I choose to die by old age.’

The king was so amused at his answer that he granted him his request. Most of us would make the same choice. But we don’t know if we’ll get it. We are servants of the Lord and of one another. Blessed are those servants who are faithful and responsible. The faithful servant doesn’t fear the master’s return. He (she) welcomes it.

Any time is a bad time for the unfaithful servant. Any time is a good time for a faithful servant. ‘We are not called to be successful, only to be faithful.’ (Mother Teresa)
