In a 12-minute video, he discusses the conversion of the patron saint of his order, St Francis of Assisi. Watch here: www.newpilgrimpath.ie.

Twenty Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year B, 29th September, 2024. Bulletin No: 1535

To Enter the Kingdom of God...

Jesus says to us 'Unless you become like little children you will not enter the kingdom of heaven'. We tend to regard childhood as something that we must grow out of as if there was nothing in it that was worth keeping.

We have to distinguish between being childlike and being childish. To be childish implies immaturity, throwing tantrums, being silly, being irresponsible... children are not angels. These are things we should grow out of. But there are lovely childlike qualities which we should try to hold onto - openness, receptivity, sense of wonder, ability to live in the present..

Nothing is easier as life goes on that to grow old in heart, dry and disillusioned, cynical and selfish. Children put us in touch with the gentler and more innocent part of themselves that we may have discarded in the struggle or battle of life. They revive in us too a sense of wonder, and it is the sense of wonder above all that keeps us young.

When Jesus says to us, 'Unless you become like little children you will not enter the kingdom of heaven,' he is recalling us to our lost childhood, so that though old and frail in body we might be reborn in innocence of character.

Jesus says we can't enter the Kingdom unless we receive it like a child. The kingdom is a gift. No one can enter the kingdom who is not open to receive it as a gift.
