FISHERS OF MEN

Night-time was the time for fishing. If anyone else had said to Peter, 'Launch out into the deep and let down the net for a catch,' he would have said, 'Are you mad? Do you want me to make a fool of myself in front of all these other fishermen? If we didn't catch anything during the night, what chance have we of catching anything in broad daylight?'

But when Jesus said those words to Peter, his spontaneous response was, 'Lord, we fished all night long and caught nothing. But if you say so, I will let down the net.' For Peter, the word of Jesus was different from the word of anyone else. It carried an authority which no other word of anyone else. Hence, if Jesus called for it, then no matter how hopeless the situation might seem, or how tired he was, or how foolish he might appear, he would try again.

The Gospel story is not so much a story about fishing, but about trust. Jesus was calling Peter and his companions to a more important occupation. He was offering them a cause to which to dedicate their lives. Jesus called the apostles, to service of himself, but to service of others.

The Lord still calls people, and the need is just as great today. By our baptism we too are called to follow Christ. But what does that mean for the ordinary person? It means to be a Christian where you are and in your chosen profession. There are more ways than one of serving Christ and his Gospel.
